The ideal experience in a space

The ceiling is the ideal place to tailor the acoustics to your needs.

The art is to incorporate this ceiling into the aesthetics of the entire space to create a professional balanced interior.

Balance and harmony between materials and colour will always promote the well-being of the users of the space.

This intense green colour on the ceiling gives the whole space a calm, safe and natural feeling.

It also creates a perfect harmony with other natural materials such as wood and concrete.

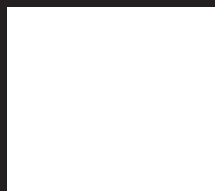

The textile of the furniture in a soft green shade creates a perfect harmony with the colour of the ceiling.

Here, the textile of the furniture is adapted to the shades of the wood and the floor.

Vertically, each colour line runs from light to dark grey and ends with an intense colour. Horizontally one is inspired to combine colours that have the same colour strength.

This colour concept contains 5 colour ranges. The concept design started by dividing grey tones into colour lines.

First a neutral line, then grey tones with a subtle touch of red, yellow, green or blue.

The last four lines end with an intense colour.

Some shades from the 2026-27 trend palette to show that all colours fit into one of these 4 colour lines and can therefore be perfectly combined with the right grey tones.

All RAL & NCS colours.

Balance and harmony between materials and colour

In this example, the furniture mainly consists out of warm wood colours with only an intense blue accent. This blue is repeated on the entire ceiling.

Perfect for creating a nice balance between warm and refreshing, with the result that colour gives added value to the architecture.
